Washington, Feb. 19.—Daniel Willard, president of the B. & O. R. R., continuing testimony today before the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee, proposed the ultimate consolidation of all the country's railroads into about 25 great systems along present lines as an alternative to the plan to establish regional systems on a geographical basis. He submitted a map to show how competition would be preserved under his plan with the big roads absorbing the weaker ones.

Five Shots Fired at French Premier As He Entered Automobile--Bullets Took Effect in Back and Shoulder--Aged Frenchman Heroically Grappled With Assailant--Wounds Not Regarded As Serious and Premier Resting Easily-- Police Capture Would-Be Slayer

WHEAT SAVED FROM FIRE

(By Associated Press)
Port Arthur, Ont., Feb. 19.—Three hundred and fifty thousand bushels of grain stored at the Canadian national elevators here were saved from destruction today after being endangered by fire which wrecked a workhouse near one of the elevators. Five communicating bridges dropped when the workhouse collapsed but fell clear of the elevators.

(By Associated Press)
Paris, Feb. 19.—Georges Clemenceau, France's aged but vigorous premier, was shot and slightly wounded this morning as he was entering his automobile for a drive. Five shots were fired by the assassin and it was at first reported that the Premier had been wounded in the head. It developed later, however, that the wounds were in the back and shoulder and that he apparently was not dangerously hurt. The shooting took place at 8.55 o'clock this morning as the Premier was leaving his house in Rue Franklin to go to the War Office. The assassin was an ordinary looking man dressed as a workman. He was arrested. Policeman Courat, who was wounded in the right eye, although not seriously, by one of the assassin's shots, told a representative of the Associated Press that Premier Clemenceau rushed up to his assailant and grappled with him. The Premier's wound is not regarded as dangerous in itself but it is felt that there may be serious consequences considering his age and infirmities. At 11 o'clock this morning, however, it was officially announced that he was not seriously wounded. The assailant was a man named Emile Cottin, 25 years old. He said his home was in the Montmartre quarter of Paris. The police are inclined to think him a Russian. An enormous crowd gathered near the Clemenceau residence. Within a half hour President Poincaré arrived. He was quickly followed by members of the cabinet, high officials of the government and representatives of the army and navy, as well as of the diplomatic corps, including William Graves Sharpe, the American Ambassador. Shortly before noon the Premier was sitting up in an arm chair, smoking and joking with his assistants. He had slightly increased temperature.

RUSSIAN SITUATION CONSIDERED

(By Associated Press)
Paris, Feb. 19.—Several plans for a solution of the Russian problem have been held before the supreme council. One involves the use of force. It is based on the idea that the reluctance of the entente powers and the United States to defy Socialist opposition to one of their armies against what some of them regard as only a "working-man's government" can be met by recourse to a volunteer army. It is felt that no difficulty would be encountered in raising almost any desired number of men for a Russian campaign. Present indications are that this plan will not be approved and that the supreme council will fall back into a waiting attitude, although it may be found possible to do something in a peaceful way.

NAVAL OFFICERS CHARGED WITH TAKING BRIBE

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Feb. 19.—Trial by court martial of two naval officers in connection with charges of bribery and graft in the 3rd Naval District has been ordered by Secretary Daniels. It was announced today that sufficient evidence had been submitted in a preliminary report to warrant these trials immediately. Secretary Daniels said at least two other cases were developing. It was learned that one case involved the acceptance by a Naval medical officer of a bribe of $1000 for passing an applicant who was not physically qualified for the duties he sought, and another case involved a bribe of $500 to secure a detail which would permit the applicant to remain at home indefinitely.

SERBIANS NOW HAVE FRESH START

Nish, Serbia, Feb. 18.—Three months of unrelenting industry, unhampered by Bulgarian and Austrian depredations or interference, have enabled the Serbian people to secure a new hold on life. With the country entirely free of invaders, the large peasant population has succeeded in settling things in order in surprising fashion, and conditions should be almost normal soon.

Large quantities of wheat and other staples, which the shrewd Serbian farmers hid from the enemy, have reappeared. At the moment the most pressing needs seem to be clothing, shoes, fuel and agricultural implements.

Apparently there is plenty of money in the country, some of it having come from Austrian and German soldiers who, it may be said to their credit, paid for most of the articles they took from the Serbians during their occupation. However, the Bulgarians, who requisitioned almost everything they required for their already straitened population, often paid nothing for what they took. In the cities most of the stores have no stocks because they sold almost everything to the Austrians and Germans.

Fortunately the harvest last fall was exceptionally good and there was probably will be nothing approaching starvation among the peasantry this winter. The enemy troops carried off almost every article of value they could lay hands on, but they did not have time, owing to the suddenness of their retreat, to take with them more than 25 per cent of the available grain supply. Meat is abundant though high in price. Before the war it sold for six cents a pound, now it sells for 56 cents. Large numbers of sheep raised in the mountains furnish not only a valuable meat supply, but an abundance of wool which has provided the peasants with the only clothing they have had in four years.

Serbia's most vital need is for clothing. Even well-to-do persons are shabbily or, at least, scantily clad. The Associated Press correspondent observed an army officer of high rank dressed in a skirt made of flour sacks. The little clothing that may be bought is held at prohibitive prices. The ordinary peasant working costume costs $160, shoes $50, underwear of poor quality $25, and thread is priced at $2 a spool. A consignment of old clothes from the Buffalo, N. Y., chapter of the American Red Cross valued at $1,600 by a merchant in the First district where the Red Cross is carrying on relief work. The Buffalo supplies were distributed on Christmas Day and brought happiness to many homes.

BIG TRAP SHOOT FOR NEXT SATURDAY

The open shoot at the Portsmouth Country Club on Washington's birthday promises to bring out the best talent that has been seen at the traps in this city for years. The shoot will be an all day affair and the events will be given out later.

Several of the best guns in this section and some of the best in New England will be here if the weather is at all good. Among those who have written they will be here are: Warren Weymouth the Champion of Maine, Walter Haines of Portland one of the best known trap shooters in the country, W. B. St. Johns of Portland, G. M. Wheeler of Bangor, W. G. Hill of Portland, the last two professional, and in addition there will be some from Manchester and others from Boston.

All of the local trap shooters are invited to take part and practically all will be present. Several members of the Exeter Gun Club will also be here, and some of the Dover members. If the weather is at all right there should be some excellent sport.

The temporary range near the club house will be used on Saturday, but the work of getting the permanent range ready is well under way. This will be equipped with an automatic trap with a standard trap house and it will be laid out in accordance with the plans of the National Trap Shooting Association. This range would take care of as many as will shoot except at a state meet, and if necessary two trap houses will be built. If there is interest enough in the sport every provision will be made by the Club to provide meets as often as they are desired.

KITTERY

Kittery, Feb. 19.—Constitution Lodge, No. 88, Knights of Pythias, observed its silver anniversary on Tuesday evening by entertaining a large number of guests and members. Charles Waggatt gave the visitors a cordial welcome, in behalf of the lodge, and at the same time presented Fred W. Cross with a K. P. ring and fountain pen as a token of their appreciation for his services of over 20 years as degree master, and who has been obliged to resign. A basket of fruit was also given to the aged member, Mark W. Paul, who was unable to be present, and the gift was carried to his home by Messrs. Daniel Seaward, Ernest Jackson and Charles Adams. Fred W. Cross then gave a most interesting history of the lodge since its institution 25 years ago, showing the membership to be at present over 200 and steadily growing, and with the sum of over $12,000 in the treasury. Mr. Cross then presented K. P. rings to Charles Brooks for bringing in the largest number of names since the drive; to A. W. Newell for faithful services among the sick; and to P. C. Harry Robbins for his efforts while at the head of the lodge. A musical and literary program ensued, consisting of selections by a male quartet of Portsmouth, selections by the Bartlett Trio of South Elliot, and readings by Miss Ellen Smith of Elliot. Refreshments of ice cream and assorted cake were served, followed by dancing, the grand march being led by Chancellor Commander Raymond W. Brackett and Miss Marion G. Brackett.

The committee in general charge of the affair were: C. R. Wagoner, P. G. V. C.; E. W. Cross, P. G. P.; W. T. Harrowes, P. G.; Raymond Brackett, C. C.; T. Clark, P. C.

Carroll E. Burnham of Woodlawn avenue, who leaves the latter part of this week for Duluth, Minn., where he has accepted a position, was treated to a delightful surprise on Monday evening, when he was visited at his home and presented with a handsome gold chain and charm, the gift of his shopmates in the automobile division of the industrial department at the navy yard. The gift was presented by Patrick Hennessey, who with several co-workers, visited Mr. Burnham's home, and the donors were heartily and feelingly thanked for their gift by their host. A most happy evening ensued, music being enjoyed and refreshments served. All joined in wishing Mr. Burnham the best of success in his new undertaking.

Friends of Alexander Reel of Lowell, Mass., formerly of North Kittery, will be glad to learn that he has been honorably discharged from the U. S. army after a long service overseas. ## TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed with Sulphur It Darkens so Naturally Nobody can Tell.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mossy sulphur at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time, by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.

FLAY LEAGUE IN U. S. SENATE

(City Associated Press)
Washington, Feb. 19.—In the first prepared address on the League of Nations delivered in the Senate since the constitution of the proposed League was made public, Senator Poindexter, of Washington, Republican, today declared the entrance of the United States into the League would mean a surrender of American rights, privileges and sovereignty, the abandonment of the Monroe doctrine and a violation of the constitution. The constitution of the League, he asserted, was conflicting, indefinite and uncertain, and the machinery which it proposed to set up "similar to the Soviet government in Russia."

"No such colossal burden or entangling alliance was ever before conceived in the world," he said. "Instead of being an instrument of peace, it is the fertile seed of war, the dragon's tooth from which, when sown, armed soldiers arise."

Through participation in the drafting of the League's constitution, he declared, the United States had been led to a point where we are now facing an abyss.

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little Freezone on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then you lift it right out. Yes, magic!

Freezone is the sensational discovery of a Cincinnati genius. It is wonderful.

GUNMAN ROBS STORE, SHOOTS LITTLE BOY

Boston, Feb. 19.—While William Scott, manager of an Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company store at 240 Mulford street, Somerville, was being cowed by a holdup man's revolver, the vege turned quickly and sent a bullet through the upper left arm of the manager's son, William Kenneth Scott, aged 11, who was waiting for his father to close up the grocery at 6:20 Monday evening.

The boy later was taken to the Somerville Hospital, where it was discovered the bullet had passed through the arm. He was then taken to his home, 13 Vinet avenue by his father.

The rubber escaped with the contents of the cash drawer, about $35, after he had ordered the manager into the cellar and had thrown the boy down the short staircase after his father.

MEAT INJURIOUS TO THE KIDNEYS

Take a tablespoonful of Salts if Back Hurts or Bladder bothers.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jod Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in uric acid so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jod Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking it little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

is having his troubles even now, for it is undecided yet whether or not the Government can pay for his uniform. He wore out his own clothes while waiting for a "uniform" and as said uniform had not showed up when it was unsafe to wear the clothes any longer he had one built to order.

Now the question arises: Can the Government legally pay for the uniform? The cost attached to the construction of the outfit amounts to about $70. The reason it had to be constructed is that the young man weighs only about 300 pounds, and Uncle Sam had nothing in stock to fit him.

THE YANKS AS TOMMY SAW THEM.
Oh, the English and the Irish, and the 'Divil's Scotties too,
The Canucks and the Austrians,
And the 'Jary French Polts—
The only thing that bothered us a year before we knew,
Was 'ow in 'ell the Yanks 'ud look and wait in 'ell they'd do.
They 'adn't 'ed no 'armen! they didn't know the game.
They 'adn't never marched it much—their shooting was the same,
An' the only thing that bothered us that day in 'awst July,
Was 'ow in 'ell the 'Uels 'ud if they should run away.
From 'oggy, nussy new 'uns, just come across the sea—
We couldn't 'elp but wonder 'ow in 'ell their guts 'ud be.
An' the only thing that bothered us in all our stagerin' rants,
Was 'ow in 'ell 'ud 'appen when the 'Uns 'ud hit the Yanks.

My word, it 'appened sudden when the drive 'ad fast begun;
We seed the Yanks a running, 'Gaw blimey, 'ow they run!
But the only thing that bothered us that seed the chase begin
Was 'ow in 'ell to stop 'em 'ore they got into Berlin.
They didn't have no tactics, but the bloody manual
They didn't learned no borders but "Oodery" and "give 'em 'ell!"
But the only thing that bothered us about their 'oggy 'uns
Was 'ow in 'ell to get the 'low to feed their "Canerads."
So we're standing all together in a stiffer 'ring line,
If anyone should awek you, you can say we're doin' fine,
But the only thing that bothers us, an' that don't bother much—
Is 'ow in 'ell to get the dirt to bury all the Dute.

Gaw's growin', it's rotten fightin' that all our troops 'as seen
The 'Uns a dirty playin', 'beas 'as always been.
But the only thing that bothers us in 'awst July 'im our thanks
Is 'ow in 'ell we'd done it if it weren't for the Yanks.
Oh, the English and Irish, and the 'ewlin Scotties too,
The Canucks and Austrians, an' the 'Jary French Polts—
The only thing that bothered us don't bother us no more,
It's why in 'ell we didn't know the Yankee boys before.

GERMANS STUNNED BY TERMS

(By Associated Press)
Wormer, Monday (By Associated Press)—The party speeches and arguments of the National Assembly, suffered a rude interruption as a result of the announcement of the terms of the renewal of the armistice today.

President Fehrenbach announced that the speeches would be postponed and that the assembly was requested to give time to Herr Eberberger to explain the terms of the armistice. Herr Eberberger, noticeably disturbed and laboring under great strain, said that the delegates were entitled to know the terms. As he read the terms the house was in complete silence, and even the slightest noise was greeted with warning hisses. As the Minister finished the delegates set with crest-fallen looks stunned by the new and drastic terms. Herr Eberberger said that he hoped that none of the gentlemen present would ever have to face such responsibility as he has as the chairman of the Armistice Commission.

BACK TO OLD ARMY STANDING

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Feb. 18.—Legislation providing for a tentative military establishment of about 516,000 officers and men during the fiscal year beginning July 1, was eliminated from the army appropriation bill by the house who afterwards passed the senate bill for the old volunteer service and a standing army not to exceed 175,000 men. The bill which was adopted by the house now goes to the senate, where it is generally believed that no action will be reached before adjournment in March. The bill carried $1,070,000,000.

THIN, NERVOUS PEOPLE NEED BITRO-PHOSPHATE

Guaranteed to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

Weak, thin people—men or women—nearly always nervous wreckers; thus conclusively proving that thinness, weakness, debility and nervousness are almost invariably due to nerve starvation. Feed your nerves and all these symptoms due to nerve starvation will disappear.

Eminent specialists state that the best nerve food is an organic phosphate known among druggists as Bitro-phosphate, a five-grain tablet of which should be taken with each meal. Being a genuine nerve builder and a stimulant of blood-forming drug, Bitro-phosphate can be safely taken by the weakest and most delicate sufferer, and the results following its use are often simply astonishing.

BIG SEIZURE OF WHISKEY IN BOSTON

(By Associated Press)
Boston, Feb. 18.—Agents for the department of Justice, today boarded the steamer Kershaw of the Merchants & Miners line and seized whiskey valued at $5,000, which they claimed was being shipped into dry state of Virginia. No arrests were made.

TO TRY WOMAN SUFFRAGE AGAIN

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Feb. 18.—Advocates of Woman Suffrage in the senate are planning to try and get thru at this session a modified resolution instead of the Susan B. Anthony amendment. A census is being made and if it is favorable an attempt will be made to carry it thru at this session.

STILL UNCERTAIN ABOUT THE 26TH ARRIVAL

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Feb. 18.—The Twenty-sixth (New England) Division will not sail from France until after the 4th of March. This information is being conveyed to Governor Calvin Coolidge of Massachusetts today in a telegram from Congressman Allen T. Treadway, who has been in consultation with the Adjutant General's Department this morning. It appears from this telegram that the departure of the Twenty-sixth has been postponed with that of the Twenty-seventh Division, which will precede it home. The telegram of Congressman Treadway to the governor reads substantially as follows:

Save you hair and beautify it with 'DANDERINE'. Spend a few cents! Dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out. Try this! Hair gets beautiful, wavy and thick in few moments. If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine. Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots flail, loosen and after then the hair falls out fast. If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, get a small bottle of Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter for a few cents; apply a little as directed, and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made. We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Danderine. Danderine, if eventually—why not now?

NASHUA ALLEGED WIFE MURDERER ARRESTED IN N. J.

(By Associated Press)
Nashua, N. H., Feb. 18.—The police were notified today of the arrest of Wilfred H. Lord, in Newark, N. J., charged with the murder of his wife. No details are available. Lord lived a tenement on Gilman street and after half furnishing it he took his wife there and a few hours after blood spots on the door led to an investigation and the finding of the body of Mrs. Lord in the closet. She had been shot. Lord got away and this is the first information the local police have received.

Ayer, Feb. 18.—Tentative plans for the participation of troops from Camp Devens in the reception to President Wilson on his arrival in Boston, were announced today. The 26th Infantry is designed to go to Boston and they will be accompanied by the military band.

This information is being conveyed to Governor Calvin Coolidge of Massachusetts today in a telegram from Congressman Allen T. It appears from this telegram that the departure of the Twenty-sixth has been postponed with that of the Twenty-seventh Division, which will precede it home. The telegram of Congressman Treadway to the governor reads substantially as follows:

formation from the adjutant general regarding the Twenty-sixth Division, which is now at the embarkation point at Le Mans and relieved from military duty. No date has been assigned for embarkation. The adjutant general states that the Twenty-sixth probably has been confused with the Twenty-seventh about the details of the departure. This division was originally designed to return Feb. 20, but its departure has been deferred until March 2, 3 and 4. The Twenty-sixth will be sent home after the Twenty-seventh.

"At the office of the chief of staff today it was asserted with some emphasis that the Twenty-Sixth Division is on priority list and that while it is known that it will not leave France until after the Twenty-Seventh Division gets away March 4, it is likely to be many rather than few weeks after. The status of the Twenty-Sixth has not been changed since the division received orders to "prepare for embarkation," which is only the first technical step in the process of returning home.

"The War Department volunteers in fact that it may be even seven or eight weeks before the Twenty-Sixth even starts for home.

FAVORS SHORT TERM NOTES

Washington, Feb. 18.—Short term notes maturing from one to five years will be offered instead of long terms if the tentative plans of the Ways and Means committee are adopted. It was thought better to do this than to give the Secretary of the Treasury the unrestricted authority as to the bonds and the terms of interest. Secretary Glass announced that the plans for an intensive campaign to begin on April 21 would be carried out.

BULGARIA FACES HARD PROPOSITION

Sofia, Feb. 18.—Bulgaria is in the throes of a political crisis which will require the greatest wisdom for its solution. She must liquidate the military and political disaster, and the bad effects of the personal regime of King Ferdinand which extended through a period of some twenty-five years. She must restore her standing with her alienated foreign friends, and by wise concessions and reforms forestall the spread of extreme doctrines among a large and somewhat susceptible population. Hearty cooperation of all political parties is evidence of their earnestness to meet the situation wisely.

The country now has a coalition government, the cabinet being composed of men from six different parties. This is the third cabinet change since last June, and each change has seen an increasing number of factions represented in the official family. To an American the popular character of the Bulgarian government is something of a revelation, no less than a dozen different parties being formally represented in Parliament.

Bulgaria has taken precaution against internal troubles through representative and parliamentary discussion rather than in dictatorships, street outbreaks or other forms of social upheaval. The country breathes freer in the absence of Ferdinand, even though it is occupied by Entente troops.

The old Chamber has been retained in office to avoid unnecessary risks and the agitation always attendant upon national elections. Premier Radoslav Voff, who was looked upon as Germany's dupe, had at no time more than a bare majority, and that majority consisted of Turks who, in Bulgaria, have equal rights with the Bulgarians.

Since Ferdinand's exit, the good behavior of the people has been in remarkable contrast to the situation prevailing in Prussia. This is explained by the assertion that Bulgaria is a vital democracy and has laid the basis of equitable distribution of the land, government ownership of public utilities, legislative control of the executive, uncorrupted courts, and social legislation. Universal suffrage has been enjoyed since the creation of the state and the people have proportionate representation. There is also the Australian ballot system, and guarantees of popular rights.

The early bird with the Mayflower promises to create a new record this year if the present weather holds up.

(By Associated Press)

New York, Feb. 18.—Arrests on the charge of bribery and graft of the personnel of the third naval district, following by an investigation by the order of Secretary of Navy Dandell, is announced by the New York Post. The Post says that money was paid to secure assignments and promotions and for discharges in the Naval Reserve.

Please, Mother! It's Nasty! Give Me a Candy Cascaret!

TO MOTHERS! Instead of the dreaded doses of castor oil, drops, calomel or pills, give your children Cascarets and save money, worry and trouble. Children love Cascarets because they taste like candy. Nothing else acts so gently but surely on the child's little stomach, liver and bowels.

One of the kiddies has a white tongue, talated breath, sour stomach, a cold, when cross, bilious, feverish, constipated, remember, a Cascaret to quickly "work" away the nasty bile, sour fermentations and poisons should always be the first treatment given. Cascarets never gripe the tender bowels, never injure, and never disappoint the worried mother. Each 10 cent box of Cascarets contain directions for children's dose from one year old and upwards. Also for adults.

Lowell and Miss Evelyn Drake sang, "Interment under the direction of O. W. Ham." "Whiter than Snow," "Nearer My God to Thee" and "We shall know each away." Interment was in the church cemetery and the buriers were John Lynch, John H. Smith, Robert L. Mitchell, and Charles Smith. Undertaker O. W. Ham was funeral director.

One Thing at a Time.

It is to be hoped that the League of Nations will not be over-loaded by having shouldered upon it responsibility for regulating all the affairs of life in all quarters of the earth. The formation of the League sprung from the idea that a great central body was necessary to deal with large questions affecting the nations of the world, and it was not the original intention to make it a big labor union or anything of the sort. But as the work proceeds one interest after another is tugging in its isms and there is danger that unless this tendency is checked or turned down entirely the result will be a mass of detail that will baffle the best powers of the nations combined.

Already the British proposal on international labor legislation has been adopted. This covers a wide field, including uniformity of the rights of workmen employed abroad; prevention of unemployment through orders for public works; relief of the unemployed through a system of registration; and various other features, including "the regulation of working hours in each state (country) with an international standard as the minimum."

It is easy to understand that this would be a mighty undertaking. Differences in conditions in the different countries—and particularly between all European countries and the United States—are such that it would be next to impossible to establish a uniform basis for workers that would be practicable and satisfactory, and it is to be feared that if anything of the kind is attempted the door will be opened to endless confusion and widespread dissatisfaction.

It was not for this sort of thing that the League of Nations was proposed. It was designed to deal with large matters of international concern.

Matters to come before this board would include "uniform crop reporting, equality of pay and other conditions for the farmer, as compared with workers in other occupations, collective bargaining through organizations," and other questions of interest to the farmers, but which to the casual observer would appear to be none of the business of the League of Nations.

The formation of the League for the purpose originally intended is an ambitious undertaking at best, and the work should not be smothered under a mass of detail calling for the regulation of all human affairs in all lands. It should be the business of the League to deal with strictly international questions and leave the people of the different countries to manage their internal affairs in their own way. If there is an attempt to regulate farming matters, labor matters and such other matters as certain bodies may think should come under its jurisdiction the outcome is liable to be disappointing and unsatisfactory to all concerned.

This is a good time to bear in mind the wisdom of doing one thing at a time.

Who Won the War?

From a very careful study of all the evidence furnished by the Boston Press it appears that the war could have been won at the start had Massachusetts politicians been in complete charge. As it was the boys from the Bay State really won the war. In spite of all these great claims, New Hampshire was in part also in the fighting line. Now let some of the other states speak up.

Germany's first president, Friedrich Ebert, makes a good beginning by following President Wilson's example in one important respect. He declares that he will not administer his office as the leader of a single party, but as the representative of the nation. So far, so good.

A Maine girl took a surf bath the other day amid floating cakes of ice and lives to tell the tale. But Maine people are capable of doing lots of things besides raising potatoes. Their experience under fifty years of prohibition proves that.

It is gratifying to know that fish are now being caught in volume sufficient to bring down the price to a point lower than has been reached before in several years, according to reports from Portland, Me. Let the good work go on.

This part of the country did not get much of the blizzard that recently swept sections of the West, but there did come a change of weather and conditions which will preclude grass fires until there is another change.

The 14th was a memorable day at Durham. The visit of the Legislature to the State College was a pleasant affair and should result in benefit both to the college and the state.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Is Burleson Notified?

(From the Detroit Free Press)
 We are promised the return of the 2-cent letter in June. If it is coming by mail it probably will be several weeks late.

Not Our New Castle

(From the Pittsburgh Chronicle Telegraph)
 A New Castle hunter claims the distinction of having killed 109 grounds hogs this season. Which reminds us that away back in Biblical times slaying the propheta was a pastime of some persons.

How Cheesy We Are

(From the Worcester Telegram)
 The entire United States which two months ago moved over to Paris, instructs itself there that we do not want any billions from Germany, not a cent. We rolled up a debt in a year and a half nearly as large as England rolled up in four years and we desire to stagger under the whole of it.

Old And New Liberty Bonds

(From the New York World)
 Asking blanket authority from Congress in the matter of the next bond issue, Secretary Glass says that "some thing must be done to make the bonds or notes of the Victory Liberty Loan more attractive than their predecessors." If that be true, just how attractive are the billion of their predecessors, now on sale every day in the marketplace to income?

Will It Out-Hague The Hague?

(From the New York Sun)
 The question foremost in the minds of The Sun, as it must be in the minds of all friends of peace and all well wishers of any practical scheme of war prevention, is whether after the elimination of provisions requiring a constitutional amendment before they can be effective, the remainder of the plan which the President is to bring back from France will differ greatly from that which was hailed at the Hague a dozen years ago with such sincere enthusiasm as the golden gateway to a new era of world and peace and brotherhood.

The Yankee-British Race

(From the New York Sun)
 With confidence now the country can look for the first real attempt at an overseas flight as the principal sporting event of early 1919 summer. Commander Towers, U. S. N., has been "ordered" to take charge of plans and assembly material and personnel for such an undertaking, and an order to a United States naval officer, as history so far has been written, has never been ignored.

The Navy, it appears, has something in its locker in the way of a seaplane which Navy experts are confident can make the flight. It is indicated that this hurry-up order has been issued because of the Navy's experience to make the flight before the bustling British Navy has matched the honor. American below are too sensible to get on sympathy, yet our guess is that the odds will be on the Yankees.

Unwarranted Army Discipline

(From the Washington Star)
 Making every possible allowance for the inexperience of officers newly commissioned, and for the particular necessity of establishing and maintaining a high standard of discipline in an Army created as was that of the United States by a new and accepting inclusion of all classes of men in the ranks, the record of army conduct—judged as revealed before the Senate Committee by General Aghell, chief judge advocate of the Army—is amazing and distressing.

As much as the penalties which form the subject of the present disclosures were all approved by higher authority, those who administer them are immune from reprimand. But there is now possible a reparation for those who have suffered from the unwarranted severity, and the hope is that it will be assured by a prompt enactment of the pending bill and its thorough application, with provision for the review and, when justified, modification of the sentences imposed for misdemeanors magnified into major offenses.

Man And An Issue

(From the Cincinnati Times-Star)
 "General" Jacob Coxey, whose championship pedestrian record of a quarter of a century ago was made between Paris, Ohio, and a "Keep-Off-the-Grass" sign in the White House grounds, has emerged from his prosperous seclusion at Paris, Ohio, to announce himself the euro winner of the next Presidential election. This bit of highly important information was confided to a New York Sun reporter in front of the Waldorf bar, New York. When the general made this announcement, he was end in a far overcoat which was far from humble. Several large jewels, we are told, illuminated him like the day White Way.

But the flash of those jewels was as nothing compared to the dazzling joy which surrounded numerous countenances when the "next President" announced plank No. 1 of his platform. "Write it down as anti-prohibition," said the "general" to the reporter. "When you climb upon my band wagon you will find that it is not a water wagon." There was an immediate and overwhelming increase in the interest shown in the grand-stone maker of Paris. A large and ingratiating bartender reached across no-man's land and said, "God bless you, general." A crowd which for a quarter of a century had looked upon Coxey as a mountebank, sat up and took notice.

When Coxey led his bedraggled "army" into Washington in the early nineties, his roll call noted about fifteen hundred souls. You see his cause was not popular. Today the general talks about leading a new army of 200,000, on whose banners will be painted the heraldry of the thirteenth. "How would that affect me?" asked Coxey, referring to the Congress. Coxey ought to know.

Germany Can And Should Pay

(From the Manufacturers Record)
 Last year we warned the country against the power of some international financiers and of German neutral countries to prevent the Allies and America from making Germany pay the cost of the war. This point is now advanced by a writer in the London Post, who says:

I am aware that international financiers and hyphenated Britons are trying to convince our rulers that Germany is tired while and cannot pay, but this argument is on a par with the reasoning of the same financiers that the war could not last three months. These cosmopolitan millionaires do not want Germany to suffer, because they think their interests will suffer with her; but the facts are that almost the whole of Germany's war expenditure has been within the confines of the German Empire, and has merely gone out of one German pocket into another German purse, and that Germany's coal fields are at the lowest German valuation worth £170,000,000,000, her potash £20,000,000,000 to which you can add her railways, docks, canals and all the other assets of the German Empire.

She can pay the whole of the Allies' cost of the war ten times over, and at the end of the war, she is the European belligerent which has lost least of its wealth. To fail to exact the rest of the year would mean lifelong taxation in the redemption of our loans and the paralysis of industry, and since we have got the "German bond," it would be an insult to our dead and a crime against our children to fail to exact the cost of world debtors to the uttermost farthing.

To this might have been added the fact that much of the cost of the war to Germany was offset by the enormous loot of railroad material, of machinery, of coal and ore and livestock and grain and other things of which it robbed other countries. Germany largely fought the war on stolen stuff.

NEGRO ARRESTED FOR POSING AS ANOTHER WHO KILLED 36 HUNS.

St. Louis, Feb. 19.—Posing as Henry Johnson, negro, who is said to have killed 36 Germans single-handed with a boloknife, Albert Parker of Mobile, Ala., was paraded Monday night when he appeared in the Coliseum to tell 12,000 negroes his experiences while under fire.

The arrest was made after detectives read a despatch from New York saying Johnson had arrived from overseas Tuesday.

According to the police, Parker addressed audiences in Montgomery, Ala.; Savannah, Ga.; Charleston and Raleigh, N. C. and other southern cities. He was to have received $500 for his address here.

TUSTRIANS RETURN LOOT TO ITALIANS.

London, Feb. 19.—"Enormous" treasure trains left Vienna last week for Trieste, says the special correspondent of the London Daily Telegraph. They carried financial securities, bank deposits, jewels and private fortunes valued at more than one million crowns (approximately $200,000,000) and comprised the first restitution of confiscated property which Austria is compelled by victorious Italy to make.

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 12.—Wireless reports received Tuesday at the naval station here indicated that the destroy-er Trippe was bringing to port the crew of the schooner Doverfield and that the schooner had been set afire at sea by mutineers. The Doverfield was bound from Newport News to Jacksonville.

HOW CORPORAL DUTTON MET HIS DEATH

His Captain Writes of His Great Courage.

The following letter received by Mrs. Harold L. Dutton describes how her husband met his death in France. He had won advancement for his courage and ability and was, as every friend knew him, a brave man.

The letter will be read with interest by every citizen of Portsmouth. He was leading his men in the battle when he received the fatal wound.
 Company F, 25th Infantry
 American B. P. France,
 January 13th, 1919.

Mrs. Harold L. Dutton,
 Portsmouth, N. H.
 Dear Mrs. Dutton:

I am very glad indeed to answer your letter in regard to your husband whose work I remember well.
 Corporal Dutton was wounded by a high explosive shell on October 22nd, 1918, instead of October 13th as you thought might have been. He was at once evacuated and sent to Field Hospital No. 162, American Red Cross Military Hospital No. 110 reported his death on November 23rd, 1918.

When Corporal Dutton was wounded he was in charge of the 4th Platoon of this company. Corporal Dutton's work was so good that he was put in charge of the 4th Platoon about noon of the 11th of October after the Sergeant in charge of the Platoon had been seriously wounded. Corporal Dutton handled the platoon just as well as any could have and remained in charge of it until hit on the 22nd. At the time he was hit, his Platoon was on the high ridge just east of St. Julien. The town of St. Julien is just east of the Argonne near the Aire river, and due east of Grand Fret. As you probably know the 32nd Division was at this time in the First American Army. Our Division entered directly into the Meuse-Argonne offensive on October 7th and our Regiment was thrown in on October 10th. When the 11th Platoon went over the top on the 10th of October it numbered 25 men, and on the night of the 22nd it numbered 7 men.

I remember one instance that is typical of your husband's work. On the morning of the 11th his company was sent to reinforce the 3rd Battalion of our Regiment which was being held up by machine-gun fire. The 4th Platoon was sent upon the ridge north-east of St. Julien to clear it of snipers.

Corporal Dutton led his squad up on the ridge in the face of terrific machine-gun fire and continued advancing until the Boche fired point blank at him from a shell hole. Corporal Dutton fired at the Boche and the Boche dropped his rifle, whereupon your husband took him prisoner, rather than murder him. Just a few minutes later Sergeant Crouse, the Platoon leader, was seriously wounded, and it was then that Corporal Dutton took charge of this Platoon.

Too much cannot be said of your husband, and the service that he rendered his government. Regardless of the kind of work required of him, he always gave the best he had. He was always a volunteer for patrols when in the quiet sector, and always at the head of his men during the last offensive. Those of us who were in the Argonne offensive and particularly near St. Julien know that it required the highest qualities to advance as he did on the morning of the 11th.

As a man I regard your husband most highly and sympathize with you in your loss. If there is anything further I can do for you please do not hesitate to call upon me. I hope that you will accept from the entire company our deepest sympathy.

Sincerely yours,
 (Signed) Walker H. Gournoy,
 Captain of Company F.

PRESIDENT MAY ARRIVE ON SUNDAY

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Feb. 12.—Wireless dispatches to the White House from the George Washington indicated that the ship was making such good time that she might drop anchor in Boston Harbor Sunday night. President Wilson probably would remain on board until Monday morning and deliver his address in Boston some time during the day. The President's speech is expected by administration officials to be confined almost entirely to an appeal to the country for support of the League of Nations. Secretary Tumulty has arranged to go to Boston Friday to complete arrangements for the address and to be ready to confer with the President on the situation at home.

Girls Furloughed.
 It has become necessary to furlough between 40 and 50 female operators who have been working in the sheet metal shop. The furlough is temporary owing to the lack of material.

Going on Inactive List.
 Lieut. Wright of the reserve corps, who has been attached to the Industrial Department, will be placed on the inactive list on March 1.

Helpers Only.
 The Industrial Department made a call for seven general helpers today.

Chaser Back for Short Stay.
 The submarine chaser 107 which accompanied the new submarine S-3 to Provincetown as a tender, put in at the yard today for some equipment and will return at once to the third course at Provincetown.

To Tour Pacific Yards.
 A tour of all Pacific coast navy yards will be made next month by the House naval committee. The party will leave Washington on March 8 and be gone six weeks or longer. It will include Representative Peters of Maine.

Mine Laying Tests Off Block Island.
 Naval officers announced tonight that the mine layers Oriskany and Heron would conduct mine laying tests off Block Island tomorrow under the direction of Captain Reginald Holman, commander of the mine laying forces of the Atlantic fleet.

The tests are in preparation for the departure of the two ships for the North Sea, where they will pick up thousands of mines laid by the American mine laying forces.

WHY NOT GO AFTER SOME WAR RELICS FOR PORTSMOUTH

Portsmouth, rich with army and navy history, should make an effort to secure some of the relics of the war against Germany which are coming to this country from the French and other battlefields.

In the three public parks of this city not a relic from any of the past wars can be found.

A combined effort on the part of the Grand Army, Spanish American War Veterans, historical societies, Chamber of Commerce and the city council should be made to obtain some of the souvenirs from the War Department.

Interest is taken in the train shooting events in Portsmouth. Rumor has it that two more clubs are to take up the elusive clay pigeon game. A twelve gauge double gun, built to suit the shooter and a plentiful supply of shells and targets will provide the best of sport for any red blooded man.

Surveys authorized by amendments adopted included that of a canal to connect the Merrimack and Piscataqua rivers in Massachusetts and New Hampshire and of a waterway to connect Pigot Sound and Gray's Harbor, Washington.

Elaborate Entertainment Is Planned for Friday Evening.

The Granite State Glee Club, an organization of well known colored people with rooms on Daniel street, are to give the first ladies night and social on Friday evening, Feb. 21. The managers have prepared a very elaborate program of entertainment for the guests which will be especially featured by quartet work. The club has 18 in membership and has given much of the time since its organization to the entertainment and pleasure of the colored men of the navy service. An inspection of the club quarters shows the organization has been energetic and will have no trouble to increase its membership among the colored people if it cares to do so.

CIDER VENDERS TREATED ROUGH IN NEWBURYPORT

That beverage of local contention, cider, is not a strictly local trouble. Newburyport, Mass., has the same struggle on its hands to suppress the sale of the deadly apple juice as the following story from the News of that city will show.

But instead of the few shovels gathered as a fine from offenders in the Portsmouth court, the La Forest Noyes mentioned was fined just an even $100. A few fines like this will do much to reduce the profits of the cider vendor that peddles apple juice too strong to comply with the law.

La Forest Noyes, a Newbury farmer, was found guilty in the police court Tuesday morning on a complaint for selling cider to Henry J. Southern of this city and fined $100. He appealed and was held under $200 for the superior court.

"THE VICTIM"

The Catholic Art Association presents "The Victim" a photoplay classic in nine mighty acts produced at a cost of over $50,000.00. This magnificent production will be presented at the Portsmouth Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday, Feb. 19-20, under the auspices of The Church of the Immaculate Conception. A story with a theme touching a subject dear to the heart of every Catholic as well as artistically produced that no man, woman, or child, who has not seen it before could accurately predict its ending until the very moment it is ready to make its revelation of its own accord. All through "The Victim" the dominating hero who will take his place in the life long memory every spectator as a noble character with a heart of gold and a soul that loved God and right, with a strength beyond the powers of death or evil to destroy.

Love interests pure and sweet as the breath of roses, villainy of the purple dyed hue, racing roadsters, and flying express trains, bathroom scenes in the homes of the rich, heart interest flashes in the homes of the poor, last minute rescues and daring escapes, a raging storm and its awful consequences. It has called upon all invitations of the day in the history of motion picture production that surely is a credit to its producers.

FUTURE TRADE BETWEEN ITALY AND THE UNITED STATES

The war has brought about momentous changes in the trade relations between Italy and the United States, not only in the question of quantities but also of classes of goods. What is more it would seem that this change, for most articles, is to become permanent, owing to the new agricultural and manufacturing conditions brought about by the war in both countries.

Italy will continue to need grain, animal fats, lumber, petroleum, fertilizers, copper, cotton and cottonseed oil from the United States, as before the war. In addition thereto, it is sure that the shipments of coal and steel will anything but diminish, since the mines and the mills of England will, for a long time, be devoted to domestic needs. Before the war very little coal, less than half a million tons a year, was supplied by the United States to Italy, excepting, of course, bunker coal supplied to Italian steamers calling at these ports or taken to Italy for steamers belonging to owners whose vessels ply between Italy and the United States. Before the war Great Britain used to send nearly twelve million tons of coal to Italy each year, but, as stated above, this will be impossible for her to continue under the circumstances. Therefore, it is natural that the United States will become the main source from which Italy will get both the bituminous coal for her industries and anthracite for family use.

The same considerations apply to steel, and it is known that, although many Italian war orders had been cancelled recently, yet they have been substituted by other large orders for steel to be used in the industrial reconstruction of Italy.

In the matter of food stuffs, it is expected that the shipment of enormous quantities of common grades of pink Alaska salmon to Italy will be continued, a staple which, before the war, was not widely known in Italy, but became of general use during the war, owing to the fact that scarcely any olive oil and the control thereof by the Italian Government made the packing of tinned fish a costly and limited operation. Compared with tinned fish, canned pink Alaska salmon, in normal times, is cheap, notwithstanding the cost of transportation, and it is expected, therefore, that it will become one of the staple foods of the Italian classes, especially in northern Italy, where sea fish is dearer than in any other part of the country.

With a new era beginning for the economical life of Italy and the awakening of the agricultural classes which the war threw into very close contact with industrial classes, and the clamoring of the people for internationalization first, it is expected that the old agricultural systems will soon give way to modern methods and the use of agricultural machinery, which heretofore has been practically limited to North and Central Italy, will extend to all the other regions of the peninsula. This should also apply to that big island of Sardinia, which, in ancient times, was one of the largest granaries of the Roman Empire. Agriculture in Tripolitania will also be developed as soon as a peace settlement is reached and Italy may be free to deal with the insurgents in a more efficacious manner than she has been allowed to during the past four years, so that this other granary of ancient times will necessitate a tremendous amount of agricultural machinery. There is America's opportunity for enlarging her markets in all these regions.

CIDER NO LONGER CLASSED AS SWEET

The public have begun a campaign against the sale of cider. Two were in court on Tuesday and paid fines for selling cider that could not be classed as sweet, and other places where it is sold will be made to stop the sale or distribute cider that is not more than a few days old. There has been more or less drunkenness and the cider if it does not give all of the kick is at least the foundation and the agency for the other ingredients which are used to get the proper effect.

LITERARY NOTES

"Our Little Celtic Cousin of Long Ago," by Eudene Stein. The latest addition to "The Little Cousin of Long Ago" series, and tenth volume in the list, uniform in appearance with those that have gone before. The story describes the period, ages and ages ago, when the Celtic race had a great empire originally spreading over a large part of Europe and later reduced to the confines of what we now call France and the British Isles and finally to Ireland alone as the chief remnant and reminders of its romantic ways and legends. The scene is laid in the days of the great King Brian Boru and describes his death in the battle of Clontarf during the fierce raids of the Danes. Historical correctness has been carefully maintained and the story is full of engrossing interest for the juvenile reader. Price 60 cents net.

"The Necklace of Jewels" by Margaretta Murphy. Published by the Page Co.

Fables of course! That is Miss Murphy's explanation of the making of such beautiful jewels as the opal, pearl, emerald, diamond and topaz. And she tells a pretty story in connection with the making of each of the jewels named, and then there are pretty pictures in colors. As is always the case, there are wistful creatures where there are good fables, but the good and the true always triumph in fairy stories, and that is why boys and girls will like this book.

"Carla and How She Became a Patriotic American" by Lucy M. Blanchard (The Page Co., $1.50 net) is a book in which real girls figure and conduct themselves normally and interestingly. There is nothing artificial or strained about this dainty volume. The story begins in Carla's Mexican home and ends with the appearance of the "Star Spangled Banner" as all good stories should end in these days.

There is a glossary at the end, which makes plain all the Latin-American expressions which appear in the book and contains much that will prove genuine information for most readers. Carla's story possesses a unique appeal, thoroughly fascinating.

"Marjorie, the Circus Girl," by Alice A. Allen, author of "Joe, the Circus Boy," "The Marble Twins," illustrated by Harriet O'Brien, Boston, Mass.: The Page Co., 53 Beacon street.

This is a story about the five Pennies, who lived in a little house that all the village called The Penny Bank, and they had many and sundry adventures such as boys and girls love to read about. This is neither a boys' nor girls' book, but one for all, because there were both boys and girls in the penny family. In fact it was three to two in favor of the sex that always teases the cat. Marjorie came with the pennies, and that made the story a real story, with a lot of mystery in it, that keeps one wondering until the very end. It really would not be quite fair to tell how it all happens, and how it turns out except that at the very end of the story, there are eight Pennies, big and little, and everybody is very happy. They have a good deal of trouble, and they wonder sometimes how it would all come out, but things did straighten, and beautiful good fortune came along, and the Pennies were all happy and contented in the little bank.

For good cheer and happiness after a wholesome amount of difficulty in achieving it, nothing could exceed the bright interest and charm of this story. It will be enjoyed by many thousands of boys and girls, and every copy will be well thumbed and finger marked by young book lovers, who will pass it on to friends to read.

Received of the publishers.

fascinating story relates the exciting adventures of two white boys—cousins—and a young Blackfoot Indian boy, a devoted champion of the narrative five is in the heart of the Blackfoot Indian hunting grounds, just east of what is now Glacier Park in the Rocky Mountains. As the Blackfoot tribe were on the most friendly terms with the whites, the boys were thrown into intimate relations with them in their travels and hunting trips; joined them in an armed encounter with a hostile band of Indians, and became so thoroughly identified with their interests, as to be ultimately adopted into the tribe. One aim of the story is to give a realistic picture of Indian life, with an accurate account of their customs, religious rites and folk lore. The narrative is thus instructive as well as entertaining. There are plenty of thrilling incidents which will appeal to a boy's love of adventure. It is a very wholesome as well as interesting story. $1.50 net. (The Page Company)

"The Sandman: His Runny Stories" by Harry W. Fries. Published by the Page Co.

The juvenile heart has a warm spot for the rabbit, and therefore rabbit stories are especially pleasing to the juvenile mind. And the young readers of these tales will wonder where the narrator of them came across such remarkable bunnies, for they do almost everything that boys and girls of ten to eight years do, and most remarkable of all, they talk just like human beings. Then there are pictures showing how the bunnies accomplish the things told in the stories—and if rabbits really lay the colored eggs so highly prized at Easter time it stands to reason that they can go through the performances Mr. Fries so cheerfully describes.

WOMEN WILL NOT GIVE UP JOBS TO THE MEN

Washington, Feb. 18.—Women who took men's jobs for war work are refusing to return to peace-time pursuits.
This is shown today by reports of the United States employment service. Practically everywhere, it was stated, where women stepped into men's jobs they are making determined efforts to hold them.
The best estimates of the employment service show about 1,500,000 women out of 11,000,000 female workers were doing men's work when the war ended, and reports indicated the number has been reduced only slightly.

The large majority of women in general, officials stated, did not step out of their own life to do their patriotic duty for the country, but were attracted from the ranks of women who are compelled to work. Higher wages were the cause and the women are loath to give up the higher wages.
The determination of the women, officials admit, is one of the continuing causes of unemployment of men, but they point out these women must work to live, and if they are to relinquish their work to men other employment must be found for them. In many cases the women are backed by employers, who believe their labor can be obtained at a lower figure than that of men.

Oppose Women
Opposition to the women keeping men's jobs is clearly manifest at the American Federation of Labor.
"The Federation does not want to drive women out of industry," Frank Morrison said today, "but it believes there is work for women and work for men, and that both should stay in their own line."
Women are now strongly entrenched in the railroad service, their number having increased from 60,000 in January 1918, to 101,000 in October. Senator Kenyon has written Secretary of Labor Wilson for figures, showing how many men are being kept out of work by women holding their jobs.

WHEN FRIENDS ARE A BURDEN

Random Observations and Reflections of a Man on the Side Line

(Syndicate)
The heaviest of us have our ailments occasionally, and it sometimes seems to me as if the strong and healthy suffer more than those who have real infirmities, because of the fact that habitual vigor makes them more sensitive and irritable when there is the slightest interference with their physical well-being and creature comfort. The man or woman who suffers ailments worth mentioning requires in the course of time patience and a spirit of submission, while the person who is blessed with perfect health most of the time and is subjected to nothing but the slightest indisposition any line will ordinarily make more fuss than the chronic invalid or a person prostrated by a sickness that is the real thing.
All ailments are bad. Some are far worse than others, but there is none so trivial as to be ignored. A common cold is a disagreeable thing. A touch of rheumatism, by no means severe in comparison to what the disease may be, is no small matter to the sufferer. There are numberless aches and pains that are far from serious, and yet they are extremely disturbing, particularly to persons who are usually in perfect health and spirits.
In my personal experience—which without doubt has been the same as that of thousands of others—the most tedious thing in connection with an ordinary ailment is to be obliged to listen to the people who have come to recommend. Have you a cold? Why, that's nothing. "Take a dose of castor oil," says one. "Go right to the drug store," says another. "Buy ten cents' worth of Sealand's cold cure, take it on going to bed and forget your trouble." Have you a touch of rheumatism? Every friend you meet will tell you how to get rid of it. "The remedies range all the way from the various patent prescriptions to sucking lemons, drinking prickly ash tea, hard cider, elder brandy, etc., to walking on sulphur," they mean, coating the soles of the shoes with powdered sulphur—sometimes called brimstone—which the sufferer feels like prescribing in a certain famous form to the friend who tells him to "walk on sulphur."
But the rheumatic sufferer has no right to complain of the officiousness of the friends who would cure him, or even of the torturing predicament in which he finds himself. His suffering is the result of inescapable ignorance or carelessness. If he had known enough to carry a horse chestnut in his pocket, or even a small potato, he would never have been a victim of the disease. And the joke of it is that when one later meets a friend who prescribed an infallible remedy, notices that he is shuffling around with a cane and reminds him of his boasted "sure cure," he is solemnly and sadly assured that the remedy was "never known to fail before."

CREW OF SAN FRANCISCO SCORES A SUCCESS

Their Annual Naval Ball the Big Success of the Season--Decorations a Feature

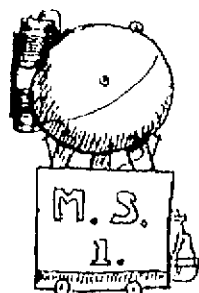

The crew of the U. S. minelayer San Francisco set up a new mark in its annual ball at Freeman's hall Tuesday night, they future naval dancer will have hard work to excel. It was the first ball of the ship's crew since its return from the wonderful work in the North Sea, when with the other U. S. minelayers it created a new record for laying a mine barrage.

After a long absence in European waters the San Francisco is again at her home port at the Portsmouth navy yard. Many of the boys in the navy who are well acquainted here and their friends are giving them a hearty welcome. The boys, determined to have the ship's ball one of the most brilliant events of the kind ever held in this city and their efforts were well rewarded. The decorations for the event were elaborate, the weather perfect, the attendance large, the music lively and the conditions attending the carrying out of the affair attending toward its complete success, the evening being brought to a conclusion at an early hour this morning.

The ball presented a perfect picture with its elaborate adornments of lighting and flags, and electrical effects, a large crew of men from the ship working all day Tuesday arranging the decorations.

The entire ceiling was covered with flags and bunting on which were emblems of foreign nations. The side walls were also entirely hidden with bunting and the gallery facade was bunting festooned, while here and there were caught bunches of pine tied with red ribbon.

Large American flags covered the rear and sides of the stage and at the front was a mine, which when loaded would weigh 1300 pounds; this was decorated with red, white and blue ribbon. At the rear was a red bunting covered block labeled "U. S. S. San Francisco," and at the front the word "Welcome," flanked by electric lights and an outline of an exploding mine.

Type of Mine Planted by the U. S. S. San Francisco.

mine Over 100 small lights were used in the electrical display and the effect was beautiful indeed.

Across the front of the stage a lot of ice entwined with flowers and greenery enhanced the beauty of the adornings. In one corner of the hall a flower trimmed tables formed an attractive cozy bower and here easy chairs were arranged. Pino bought at points of vantage about the hall added finishing touches to the decorative scheme.

The ball was confined strictly to the navy, and with one or two exceptions none other than naval officers or sailors were in the hall. The special guests of the evening in addition to the officers of the ship, were Rear Admiral C. J. Bouch, U. S. N., the commandant of the yard and the heads of the departments.

Marden's orchestra of twelve pieces furnished an excellent concert and dance program.

The grand march was just before intermission and this was a very pretty affair. It was led by Captain Sinclair Gannon and Miss Young Raynes followed by G. L. Simmons and Mrs. Gannon, the members of the committee and ladies and the officers and ship's company. As they swung down the hall the people in the galleries showered them with the paper streamers, making a very picturesque scene.

At intermission refreshments of chicken salad, stuffed olives, sandwiches, assorted cake, ice cream, coffee and punch were served and dancing was then continued until two o'clock this morning.

The ball was in every way a success and the able committees of the crew, were untiring in their effort to please.

The officers of the dance were: Honorary President, Capt. Sinclair Gannon; Honorary Vice President, Ex-Officer L. P. Kimball; President, G. L. Simmons; Vice President, J. A. Capito; Committee of Arrangements, W. P. DeBart, W. G. Chapman; Floor Committee, G. J. Gannon, Chairman, and Assistants; Reception Committee, W. S. Kusky, Chairman, J. H. Filippo, W. M. C. Rutland; Decorating Committee, A. White, Chairman, D. Morrison and Assistants; Sergeants at Arms, G. J. Koratich, M. J. Handzo.

The dance orders were deck with silk cord and tassels; on the outer cover were two American flags and a cut of a mine.

The scene in the hall was one of activity and brilliancy. The light colors of the ladies and the naval uniforms of their partners made a striking effect and with the throngs of young people constantly moving about the scene on the floor was one long to be remembered.

The cruiser San Francisco left Portsmouth on Sept. 11, 1917 for Boston. It sailed for European waters on May 12, 1918, being the flagship of the squadron of mine layers for the hazardous duty of mining the North Sea, this gigantic operation which was done so successfully. The men of the mine fleet were in great danger in every mining excursion and certainly did able work in the world war.

WOULD CLOSE UP ALL THE COUNTY JAILS

May Keep All Prisoners at County Farm and Make Them Work.

What promises to cause a merry fight among the members of Rockingham County in the legislature is the bill to close up the jails at Portsmouth and Exeter and have all prisoners transferred to the county farm at Brentwood.

This bill made its appearance in Concord on Tuesday coming from the Judiciary committee.

Now that there will be no beer of any kind allowed these behind the bill think that the jails will not be needed.

Another reason given in defense of the bill is that the county was obliged to hire help all last summer to run the county farm and the promoters of the bill figure that prisoners who should be made to work instead of sitting around idle in the jails.

If the bill passes it means to be seen how much benefit it will bring to the county.

It must be known that prisoners awaiting trial cannot be made to work.

The bill has been referred to the Rockingham County delegation.
